

STOKO

INDUSTRIAL

Healthy hands boost productivity, reduce germs and increase profitability. Skin health problems, often caused by physical stress, harsh chemicals and other workplace irritants, are the second leading cause of workplace disease and injury.

STOKO offers a complete line of skin care products to prepare your employees hands before they go to work, keeping their hands healthy while working and provide vital conditioning when the workday is through. By implementing a comprehensive three – point program, you can improve your worker’s health, increase productivity and increase profitability to your bottom line.
